Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam

{roo'-by-yaht}

Best known to English readers in the translation (1859) of Edward FITZGERALD, the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam is a long, early-12th-century Persian poem attributed to OMAR KHAYYAM. Rubai is Persian for "quatrain," and rubaiyat is the plural; thus the poem is a collection of quatrains celebrating sensual pleasure, as in the famous lines, "A jug of wine, a loaf of bread--and thou/Beside me singing in the wilderness." there have been many later attempts to translate the poem, but none has excelled FitzGerald's poignant paraphrase of Omar's hedonistic philosophy.
